

Kindergarten Summer Reading List

Hello Parents!

As your child's future kindergarten teachers, we are so excited to welcome your family this fall! Summer is finally here, and it is the absolute perfect time to dive into some awesome books with your rising kindergartener. Reading aloud to your child over the break is one of the best ways to get them ready for our classroom. It keeps their brains active, builds a huge vocabulary, and shows them that reading is super fun! Do not worry about them reading solo yet—just grab a book at bedtime or by the pool and read to them. To make your library trips easy, here is a list of fantastic, teacher-approved books that are perfect for reading together this summer
